The City Bar Justice Center is hosting another Sandy Roundtable discussion for the public interest and pro bono attorneys handling these cases. We will be hosting speakers who will discuss the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) proof of loss document requirements.

The purpose of this roundtable is to help increase the knowledge in the public interest community in regards to understanding and submitting accurate proof of loss documents which are a requirement for homeowners to recover for flood insurance claims. Space is limited and we ask that only attorneys actually working with clients with insurance claims or organizations supporting them attend. There is no CLE credit and no cost for the Sandy Roundtable but you must preregister.
